

- What skills could make you more employable as a MFT?
- What are the best ways to meet your educational requirements?
- How can you get “real-world and experienced” answers to your questions?
- Where can you meet and network with your peers?

MFT Program List Serve for Students

The California Association of Marriage and Family Therapists invites you to take advantage of our Newest Member Service!

A new ListServe has recently been set up specifically for students like you! Join your peers throughout the state for group discussions! Give and get feedback from those who have just started the educational process, from those who are near completion as well as from all those in between.

There is a sea of knowledge out there! Take advantage of it Today!

For those who are already CAMFT Members, just follow these few steps and begin networking with your peers immediately!

- Log on to the CAMFT website, www.camft.org (scroll down to CAMFT ListServe)
- Select CAMFT ListServe (Remember, MFT Students need to be members of CAMFT to take advantage of this service)
- Select the “All Forums” tab
- Select the “Subscribe” button to the right of the MFT_Student selection
- Fill in the requested subscriber information and click subscribe
- You will receive an e-mail acknowledgement to confirm acceptance
- Select the MFT_Student selection under the “All Forums” tab
- Enter your e-mail address and password when prompted
- You may now create and send e-mail through the MFT_Student ListServe!
- Once you are logged on, you can also select the “My Account” tab to set preferences for receipt of e-mail from the ListServe
- The e-mail address to the ListServe is MFT_Student@astro.lyris.net

If you are not yet a member of CAMFT, give us a call at (858) 292-2638.
The application process is quick and simple. We look forward to hearing from you!
